Fire Destroys House In Haliburton

Three youngsters were sent by ambulance to Toronto Sick Children's Hospital after being badly burned when fire gutted their Hyland Street home Thursday night.

Six children and their parents Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McGuire, were left homeless by the blaze.

Dr. H. E. Good of Haliburton said the children and their mother were all injured to some extent, but three youngsters suffered extensive burns and were taken to Haliburton Red Cross hospital and from there transported by ambulance to Toronto.

Hospitalized in Toronto were Conway 14 and David 12 with third degree burns mainly to their hands, and Shane 8, with second and third degree burns to over 50 percent of his body.

Mr. McGuire was at a hunting camp when the fire broke out. His wife and children fled their house.

Haliburton Fire Chief Joe Iles said firefighting crews spent three and a half hours at the scene, located at the east end of Hyland Street. He said the building was old with many partitions, and it was difficult to quell the blaze.

'We were fortunate to contain it' he added, noting that there were other houses close by and the fire could easily have spread.

He said an electric heater is the suspected cause of the fire.

SNOWMOBILE ASSOCIATION GAINS MOMENTUM

With the hectic summer behind them and the promise of winter again in the air the Executive members of the Haliburton County Association are working feverishly to bring their various projects to completion.

The thanks of the Association is extended to all who submitted designs in the Crest Competition last July. The winning entry was sent in by Miss Debbie Bates. Her design pictures a snowmobile superimposed over a map of Haliburton County. The Crests now on order, will be the best quality silk embroidered in black and white on a forest green background. They should be available to members in six to eight weeks, along with decals in the same design.

Much time and effort has been expended on choosing acceptable snowmobile routes for a map of the county trails. Property owners have been contacted and the Association is indeed grateful to those who granted permission to cross. It can now be reported that the preliminary work is all but completed and the final design will be submitted to the printers in the very near future. Business operators are urged to apply now for Commercial Membership to insure inclusion of their credit line on this first publication.

MINDEN REPRESENTATIVES ATTENDED HIGHLANDS PROPERTY OWNERS MEETING

Reeve and Mrs. Charles Brandon and Clerk-Treasurer and Mrs. Richard Parisotto attended the annual Meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Property Owners Council in the Parliament Buildings in Toronto on Thursday, November 4, 1971. The Reeve and Clerk were on hand to represent the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden in the Council's deliberations. Mr. Ted Campbell, Secretary Manager of the Chamber of Commerce also attended, on behalf of the Chamber. Mr. Max Bacon, Partner and Planner with the firm of Proctor, Redfern, Bousfield and Bacon addressed the gathering on the topic of Planning in Recreation Areas. The Pollution Committee of the H.H.P.O.C. presented a detailed report on pollution testing in many of the lakes of the County. The report was lauded as one of the best organized programs in the field and a credit to Mr. D. Patterson and his Pollution Committee. Mr. W. Bidgood, Chairman of the Water Resources Committee presented a report on the water levels of the lakes in the area. Mr. Bidgood was elected the new President of the Council succeeding Terry Goodyear. While the attendance was slightly smaller this year, officers of the Council were more than pleased with the successful deliberations.

HUSKIES LOOK STRONG IN FIRST WEEKS PRACTICES

The Haliburton Huskies took to the ice for the first time last Friday evening with a mixture of returnees and some new faces. Although it is very difficult to tell what kind of a team the Huskies will end up after the first 2 practices it appears to be a contender for the league leadership.

A few of the Minden boys look like good starters with the club — Jeff Campbell and Bev. Hicks are expected to have a big second year, newcomers Bill Leary, Leigh Bull, Royce Miller are also looking for a spot on the club.

ROTARY CLUB HELD DRAW

On Monday night the Minden Rotary Club held their draw on the hand crocheted table cloth, donated by Mrs. Lillian Davidson. The table cloth was valued at $100.00. Winner was Mrs. Ina Brintnell of Minden.

Proceeds from the draw are for the new Community Centre Fund.

COUNTY CLERK-TREASURER RETIRES

Pictured above (centre) is Frank Welch, who retired recently as Clerk-Treasurer of the County of Haliburton, after serving some 32 years. The County Honoured Mr. Welch at Wig-A-Mog Inn, with a banquet and presentation. Warden of the County, Roy Windover and new Clerk-Treasurer Wynn Lahay are pictured with Mr. Welch in the photo, both were on hand to commemorate his retirement.

HERE AND THERE

with Fenwick Finch

Those wearing the "Think Snow" badges and carrying their snowmobiles around in the back of their pick-up trucks sure got their wishes over the week-end. The heavy, wet, greasy snow that fell on Sunday made driving treacherous and Highway 35 was blocked time after time as vehicles slipped off the road and fouled up the traffic. Coupled with this was long delays as hills along the Highway were found to be impassible to traffic.

However all this is past as the Department of Highways slowly ground into action and began sanding and ploughing. There is more cold and snow on the way.

For some ten years the "Centennial Fund" has had a few bucks stashed away and has been offering it to some organization who might be interested in using it for Historical purposes. There have been no takers, up until now. Acting upon a suggestion from Mrs. Glen Hodgson the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home may come up with the answer.

See the letter to the Editor in this issue.

It has been a disappointment to me that the local Rotary Club wouldn't "nibble" on the suggestion they form a historical group similar to what the Haliburton Club has. If this deal goes through it may be they would be interested in helping out.

Saw an article in another paper recently which mentioned the fact that a woman had an $860.00 watch snapped off her arm by an ostrich. She was upset when the owner of the bird refused to have it killed so that the watch could be recovered. His solution was simple — "wait until the bird passed the time."

.....

Driving along the northern part of highway 35 recently I saw an odd sign left around that made me wonder whatever happened to the "scenic Highway 35" organization.

In the short time it was in operation they accomplished quite a bit. Anyone care to bring us up-to-date on how this organization stands?

I heard about this fellow that was walking along a back road when he came across some little green men strolling about from a space ship parked in a nearby field. They were looking at the ground with magnifying glasses.

The man became curious and walked over and asked one of them what they were looking for.

"Little green women", came the answer.

Seems to me there was something else I wanted to put in here this week but I'll be darned if I can think of it — anyhow we're out of space. Haven't heard any hunting stories so I can throw in one to finish off.

Remember, with all this snow around driving is becoming more hazardous — drive carefully, your life is still valuable — with Christmas coming up give your family the best possible gift — you.

Until next week think on this — A young teen-ager burst into the house — "look maw, no cavities, but, I'm pregnant."

COLLEGE STUDENTS COMPLETE CONSTRUCTION SAFETY COURSE

Eight construction technician students at Sir Sandford Fleming College have passed a special safety course in one of the most potentially dangerous aspects of construction, rigging and hoisting.

The 15-hour Construction Safety Association of Ontario course covered the use of wire and synthetic ropes, knots, hitches, blocks, and cranes. All eight received Association certificates.

'People get killed in this aspect of construction simply because someone along the line makes a mistake,' explained College instructor Fritz Heilingbrunner, who taught the course. 'Usually, the load falls or the crane falls, endangering everyone in the area.'

The students are: Doug Bateman of Toronto; John Ferguson Joseph Vanderburg, Ben Viuhka and Bob Watson, all of Lindsay; and Glen Morrison, Graeme Rice and William Shorey, of Peterborough.

Mr. Heilingbrunner said the course would enable students to supervise or do actual hoisting, fitting and rigging on their first permanent job, and would help them in their eventual roles as construction superintendents, when they will have overall responsibility for safety.

INFLATION — WHAT ELSE?

Bell Canada will pin a great deal of its case on inflation when it appears before the Canadian Transport Commission to justify its appeal for an increase in telephone rates.

In total, Bell is seeking $78.1 millions, spread out over 6,200,000 telephones. The company says that expenses are rising faster than revenues with the rates it's charging now. This was mainly due to increased levels of salaries, wages and benefits, increased research and development expenses and increased material costs and depreciation expenses.

The company says it will show during the CTC hearings that it had done all in its power to help fight inflation, but that it just had to have additional revenues to meet the current and projected needs of its subscribers.

The main feature of Bell's application is a 9 and one twelfth per cent increase in the cost of basic monthly services, and it would apply to residence and business phones alike in the majority of communities the company serves. The general range of the increases for individual residence service would be from 35 to 60 cents, depending on the size of the community served.

There would be some exceptions to this per centage increase rule, though, including the smallest towns Bell serves — those under 1,000 telephones. Here the per centage increase would be higher, but the total would still come to 60 cents because the bill for basic service is smaller to begin with.

Here in Minden, basic rates could go up 40 cents a month for individual line residence service, with a similar percentage increase for business service.

Bell's basic rates are figured on the number of telephones you can reach without paying a long distance charge, plus application of a formula based on distances between exchange centres.

Present and proposed residential rates for this exchange are as follows:

	Present	Proposed
Individual	$4.30	$4.70
Two-Party	$3.35	$3.65
Multi-Party	$3.15	$3.45

So, there you have it — it is impossible for Companies to stop inflation, like we have said before, it is up to the people, the working man to gain some fore-sight into what he wants out of life, before he dooms himself with unemployment and welfare.

Bell Canada is fortunate they run a monopoly in the country's telecommunication business, or even Bell might find themselves in trouble. So, when you get your phone bill with the increased rate, don't holler — for the more you make, the more you will spend. It's happening now, and it will continue to happen — the cost of living will be more than what you are making. Solution, there isn't any when labour wants to make as much as management.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Box 99 Minden, Ont.
November 4th, 1971

Dear 'Fenwick':

Here is the information you requested on the possible Minden Centennial project discussed with you earlier this week.

Following a suggestion from Mrs. Glen Hodgson that residents of our Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home, while enjoying the pleasant surroundings and comfortable appointments, might be happy to have one area in old fashioned decor if feasible, it was discussed that even one corner set aside, possibly with antiques and historical relics and some personal treasures on loan from residents and kept safely under lock, would attract interest.

The Minden Centennial Committee still has a bank balance of $282.92 which was intended to be directed toward some historical purpose. This display would appear to be a natural, and would give much pleasure to those who have built our Community.

This idea was enthusiastically received by any of the Minden Centennial directors to whom it was mentioned, and it is suggested that this proposal should be presented to the Hyland Crest Board of Management at their meeting November 12th. If acceptable to the Hyland Crest Board and the Minden Centennial Committee, a committee could be formed to work with Hyland Crest authorities on this theme.

Your column would be an excellent way of presenting the suggestion to members of the Minden Centennial Committee for their views. I shall be in touch with you next week regarding presentation to the Hyland Crest Board.

Yours very truly,
Wynn Lahay

C.F.L. FOOTBALL —

"Saskatchewan Squeeks By Winnipeg"

Saskatchewan Rough Riders defeated the Winnipeg Blue Bombers 34 - 23 on Saturday afternoon to advance to the best of three final against the Calgary Stampeders.

Considering the weather conditions at Taylor field in Regina, where the thermometer dipped to a freezing 25 degrees below zero, the two teams displayed great football control both on the ground and through the air. The game was a toss up until the final three minutes of the game when George Reed of Saskatchewan crashed over from three yards out on his third attempt, to put the game out of reach for the Riders.

The Calgary - Saskatchewan final should be another classic with hard hitting, low-scoring and take three games to decide the representative in the Grey Cup game from the west. I pick the Riders to win in three games.

"Hamilton Demolishes Ottawa"

Hamilton Tiger Cats defeated the Ottawa Rough Riders in fairly easy fashion on Sunday afternoon at Ivor Wynne Stadium in Hamilton, by 23 - 4. The win enabled the Tiger Cats too advance to the two game total points final against the Toronto Argonauts. The first game to be played in Hamilton.

The victory laurels for the Tiger Cats belong to former Argo, Wally Gabler. His running and timely passing, two touchdown passes to halfback Dave Buchanan, led to the Hamilton victory over Ottawa, who just didn't appear to be prepared for this game.

The final in the east should prove to be a defensive battle in both games with the Argonauts prevailing by three points and advancing to the Grey Cup in Vancouver against the Saskatchewan Rough Riders.

EXPECT 1,000 AT CHURCH RALLY OFFERING FOR PAKISTAN RELIEF

A high-ranking United Church of Canada clergyman, who defines evangelism as "any way in which people are introduced to Christ, and Christ to people, so that they find some meaning to life through knowing him," will speak to a presbytery-wide rally in Cambridge St. United Church, Lindsay, on Sunday, November 14.

The Rev. Clarke Macdonald, controversial chairman of the church's Board of Evangelism and Social Service, often makes the Toronto newspapers. While pastor of St. Luke's Church, Dr. Macdonald knew well the drug and alcohol picture, and the variety of social and economic problems in the inner city. He regularly joined in the debates and discussions in Allen Gardens.

He is also keenly aware of the world poverty problem, and this service thus has a special significance for him, with the total offering going to Pakistan relief, putting the "faith" element into practical garments.

The Lindsay service is one of seven being held in each of the presbyteries of the Bay of Quinte Conference. The "Faith Festival" is the brain-child of conference President John Black, a Kingston lawyer. It has been steadily gaining support from Ottawa to Brockville over the past few weeks. Lindsay Presbytery officials hope to pack the 1,000 person capacity Cambridge St. Church.

Choir members from across the presbytery are asked to join in a massed choir, which will meet at 5 p.m., two and a half hours before the service. A song service, including several hymns from the new Anglican-United Church Hymn Book, will precede the worship period.

Next week November 15 - 20 is Young Canada Book Week — what wonderful books full of knowledge or fiction, are available to everyone today. What a change from a hundred years ago when one book was a treasure and many persons had little chance to read. Children are curious, bring them to Minden Library any afternoon 3 to 5, they are certainly welcome and we have excellent books of fact or fiction to suit all ages.

A minister who had taught his horse to gallop at the command, "Praise the Lord" and to stop at "Amen" sold this horse to a non-believing friend, forgetting to tell him of these orders. The friend was frantically galloping toward a precipice and telling this same horse to stop. The minister saved him by yelling "Amen". The horse came to a sudden stop and the friend completely converted, his hands raised to heaven and sighed "Praise the Lord". Guess what?

Students from the High School would have several holidays this week depending on which days they had exams and later Thursday for Remembrance Day and Teachers meetings on Friday. Not a very good time weatherwise but they will enjoy it anyway, especially as there is just six weeks until Christmas holidays.

There was a small card party at the home of Mrs. Wallace Walker last Friday with Lil Martin taking high and lone hand (on a cut of cards) and a tasty lunch and cup of tea served following the games.

Hint of the week — put slivers of soap in a squeeze bottle and add a little warm water and shake; little people will like this to wash their hands. Also can add more scraps from time to time.

Sunday was our really first fall of snow to stay, and this was a reminder for everyone to have snowtires put on their cars. Wonder what kind of winter we will have?

Cheerio until next week.

Ok. Let's get down to facts.

Fact is we're the largest,
most experienced snowmobile manufacturer in the world. Here's why!

FACT/ROTAX ENGINES:

Designed exclusively for each model of Ski-Doo snowmobile and winter proven to start even at forty below zero. Aluminium alloy cylinders, aluminium pistons, shrouded axial fan (two cylinder engines) and cooling fins get rid of heat fast to keep it running cool.

FACT/QUALITY BUILT:

The keynote to each Ski-Doo snowmobile is quality. Each one is checked on the drawing board, test run in the factory and checked out by your dealer to insure the best possible performance for each particular model.

FACT/WIDEST CHOICE:

The Canada Manpower Centre in Peterborough, which serves Peterborough and Haliburton Counties as well as parts of Victoria, Durham and Northumberland Counties including the town of Haliburton referred 724 persons to jobs during the month of October 1971, reports Dick Kenzie, the Manager. 242 persons were placed in jobs, identical to the figure for September and slightly above the 238 figure recorded in October 1970. In addition 111 casual man days of employment were arranged by the CMC, he said.

At the end of October there were 3687 persons registered at the CMC as being unemployed and seeking work, down 100 from September. ..

89 persons commenced training under the Canada Manpower Training Program and at month's end 277 persons were attending Sir Sandford Fleming College under this program. Courses scheduled for November include Commercial Refresher, Commercial Stenographer, Dry Wall Taper and Basic Upgrading. In addition courses in Marine Mechanics and Finish Carpentry are scheduled for November but are oversubscribed. Unemployed persons interested in these or other training courses should contact a Counsellor at the Canada Manpower Centre, 130 Hunter St. West or see Mr. John Mahoney during his visit to Minden on November 16, Mr. Kenzie continued.

Local workers showed a greater interest in jobs out of the area during September and 25 persons were given explorator grants under the Canada Manpower Mobility Program to enable them to investigate job opportunities in other parts of the province. Relocation grants were made to six persons who located jobs elsewhere assisting them with their moving costs and providing an allowance to help them during the settling in period. Information on this program is also available at the Canada Manpower Centre or during the visits by Manpower Counsellors to your community.

During October the Minister of Manpower and Immigration announced the launching of the Local Initiatives Program to be administered by his Department and the Canada Manpower Centre will make information and application forms available to groups and organizations throughout the area who might wish to submit applications under this program, Mr. Kenzie concluded.

I've received some questions recently about what to do to get out of debt or what to do when emergencies wreck the family budget. This is something that can happen to almost any of us, of course. These days, many families are living right up to their income and sometimes a little more so. When major unexpected bills come up serious financial trouble can follow.

In a recent column, I discussed some of the steps to take when you find yourself unable to meet all of your financial obligations. The basic common sense rule is to notify all creditors immediately and explain your situation to them. There are many options you and your creditors can take to adjust to the emergency.

One suggestion, however, is to make some plans before you notify creditors. If you still have a deficit after reducing your living expenses as much as possible, go over each of your monthly payments.

See how much you would have to cut your payments to come up with a total you can handle. In other words, when you find you must call your creditors, you should not only explain your problem to them, lower monthly payments.

Getting out of debt this way is not easy. It's a long, hard struggle, but at least it can be done and done without resorting to legal actions.

By reducing payments, you don't actually reduce your total debt, of course. You simply extend your debt or refinance it. You can also get a loan to pay off your debts, leaving you with

For those of you who are able to meet monthly payments, make sure you're saving something so that if disaster strikes you, you'll have a fund from which you can draw.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by William Scott M.P.

Readers of this column will recall that I have repeatedly taken the Government to task in the past for its inability to establish realistic priorities in Federal spending, and, while I try to avoid repetition as a rule, I think that I should, once again, point up the fact that there does not seem to be a shred of improvement in this area.

In spite of the fact that we in the Opposition have been urging the Government for the past 3 years to overhaul the old age security programme, the Government has not given any indication that it understands the problem or even that it cares.

In speech after speech in the House, it has been pointed out to the Government that Canadians on fixed incomes, such as retired persons and those whose only income is derived from old age security, are being left behind in the present world of high wages, inflation, and the resultant high cost of the necessities of life.

A few months ago, the government responded by raising the basic old age security pension by the princely sum of 42¢ per month. This was a token gesture, and I am convinced that the Minister of Health and Welfare fully expected the Opposition to take the pressure off. Nothing could be further from the truth. The pressure will stay on until the government recognizes the crying need for a complete overhaul of the old age security programme, or until the Conservative Party is voted into power in Ottawa. In that event, it will be a top priority of our Government to bring old age security benefits, and the incomes of other fixed income groups, into line with today's needs.

One reason for the Government's disinterest in the plight of the elderly lies in the simple fact that such people cannot present a united front. The elderly and those on fixed incomes have no unions and do not have an organization that can exert pressure on the government to give them a hearing. The elderly do not march in the streets with placards, and they do not stage sit-ins, or block traffic, or throw rocks through store windows. It is a sad commentary on the elected representatives of the Government Party when they do not respond to reasonable arguments and representations from a segment of the Canadian population who have been shunted aside simply because they cannot frighten the Government into action.
